All You Must Know About Bali Tubing Tour 2023

Besides being suitable as for a rafting activity, some river spots in Bali are also good as for tubing or river tubing tour.

Some of people probably feel strange when hearing “tubing activity”. Actually, it is a little similar to rafting activity, which it will involve you in navigation along river route on an inflatable boat.

It’s just that there are 2 points that distinguish between tubing and rafting as below!

Difference between Tubing and Rafting

1. Size of inflatable boat

First, the both look different on use of each size of boat. Tubing boat is smaller than rafting and it looks like an inner tube or a doughnut which may be boarded by only one – two persons.

Otherwise, boat size of rafting is bigger than tubing, which it may be boarded by 4 – 6 persons.

2. The use of a paddle

When navigating, every participant of rafting will hold each paddle to control and push the boat.

While, tubing activity doesn't use a paddle in the navigation. Every participant only holds on clasp boat or sometimes joins hands with other participants to control the direction of boat.
